

Army Dismisses Nine Employees as Disloyal

Six Civilian Workers Are Charged With Communist Connections

WASHINGTON. — Dismissal of nine army civilian employees on disloyalty grounds, six of them because of Communist connections, was reported by the army.

Staff Sergeant Kenneth C. Royall signed the orders for the dismissals, which have occurred principally at posts outside of Washington since Congress recessed last July.

Aside from Communist connections, grounds for dismissal included membership in organizations whose interests are considered inimical to those of the United States.

Neither identities nor assignments of the dismissed employees were reported.

Kenneth D. Johnson, special assistant to Royall, said the dismissals followed complete consideration by the loyalty review board of reports submitted by military intelligence agents and the federal bureau of investigation.

Johnson said the war department, which has been dismissing employees for disloyalty since 1942, has said that the dismissals reviewed since 1942, including 50 of suspected Communists, 31 pro-Nazis and 10 named in miscellaneous charges. Of this number, 27 were dismissed for Communist activities, 10 as pro-Nazis and 9 on miscellaneous charges.

Forced to Shoot Him, Friend Tells Sheriff

LINCOLN, ILL.—An insurance agent, B. H. Turner, 49, was arrested at West Point, Iowa, for questioning about the slaying of his friend, Wesley Rhody, 40, Lincoln truck line operator.

Sheriff L. C. Kief said Turner asserted he was forced to shoot because "Rhody just went crazy."

The two men had set out on a business trip in Turner's car. Turner said that Rhody suddenly drew a gun from his pocket and forced him to drive back. Two miles west of Lincoln, Rhody grabbed the wheel and stopped the car. Turner said he grabbed Rhody's gun and fired twice.

He said he drove away, leaving Rhody standing in the road. Rhody's body was found by three hunters who drove over it.

Better Shoes for Farm Women Urged at College

LINCOLN, NEB.—Shoe manufacturers, a University of Nebraska clothing specialist claims, are not doing right by the nation's farm women.

Practical, reasonably priced shoes have been designed for farmers, tennis players and girl scouts, but not for the girls on the farm, Helen Roche complains.

The farm homemaker, Miss Roche says, wants shoes she can wear for outdoor work.

Uncle Sam Says

What would you do if you learned that the worker next to you at the office or in the plant was taking home extra pay every payday and you could do the same? Your Uncle Sam says only one thing. Well, the Payroll Savings Plan for Savings Bonds actually profits extra pay because it accumulates Savings Bonds for you which pay at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent in 10 years.

All you have to do is authorize your employer to hold back a stipulated amount which he will hand back to you in a better form of money—money which earns interest well. Savings Bonds. Savings Bonds are extra pay. For example, if you take part of your pay in Savings Bonds at the rate of $2.75 per week, the Bonds become $3,163.15 in 10 years. U. S. Treasury Department.

Two representatives from the Internal Revenue Office will be in the office on the 14th and 15th of January to assist you in filing your Federal income report. Please take advantage of this as it has to be done.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, Paul Calvin Brown, S. C., who was killed in service Jan. 7, 1944.

The month of January is once more here.

No sadder month in all this year. So sad, so sudden was the call. His death was a shock to all.

But God in His wisdom must have known best.

And took dear Calvin home to rest. They say time heals broken hearts, but, oh, it seems untrue.

For four years have slowly passed, and oh, how our lonely hearts still long for you.

Help us dear Lord, to have the Memories that are lasting, kind and true.

Memories of the short years, dear Calvin we spent with you.

Like a ship that's left its mooring, And sails heavily out to sea, So someone very dear has sailed away in calm serenity.

Babies Born to Addicts Have Craving of Mother

Doctor Says Symptoms of Child Follow Parent.

CHICAGO.—Infants born to mothers addicted to morphine show all the symptoms of an addict suddenly deprived of the drug, a physician reported. If not properly treated, he added, the baby may die of convulsions the first week of life.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Meyer A. Perlman of Chicago said that the addition of the baby actually makes the mother's condition worse.

"Separation from the maternal circulation shuts off the supply of the newborn, and withdrawal symptoms ensue within three days," he said.

He said that although physicians whose patients include morphine addicts know of the danger, they are "unmentioned in standard textbooks of pediatrics or medicine."

On the other hand, investigators erroneously assumed that morphine was excreted in human milk; hence, breast feeding by the addicted mother was a method employed in the treatment of congenital phenism. It is a fact, though, that morphine is not so excreted, and the emphasis in treatment is now directed toward sedation.

He described a case of congenital addition in which the seven-pound five-ounce baby, appearing normal at birth, became irritable and restless on the third day of life. The symptoms became exaggerated the fourth day and the infant had lost a pound and a half of weight.

Phenomena which are already reported every four hours and all symptoms, including convulsions, diminished.

After eight weeks, the administration of phenobarbital was tapered and halted. The child showed normal development in the year the case was followed.

U. S. Uses More Power Than War, Says FPO

WASHINGTON.—The country is consuming more electric power than at the height of war production, and power shortages may be expected to last throughout 1948, the federal power commission said.

It urged electric companies to conserve power and to experience supply difficulties to investigate all possibilities of reducing the nation's electric demand.

"When war production in 1944 was at its highest peak, the demand for power reached 29,400,000 kilowatts, an increase of 17 per cent over the wartime high."

28,882 U. S. Army Officers Are Retired for Disability

WASHINGTON.—The army said that of 30,240 officers who have been retired since end of the war, 28,882 were retired for physical disability at 75 per cent of their base pay.

The army said 165 regular army officers were retired for physical disability and 1,388 for nondisability reasons. Most were retired at the end of 30 years of service.

All of the 28,877 regular army officers retired were given retirement for disability.

The figures showed that 394 regular army generals were retired for disability and 88 regular army generals were retired without disability. Only 23 regular army officers retired as generals.

Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, subject of a senate investigation, was among the officers retired for disability pension after 30 years of service. His pension of $461 a month has been halted.

A regular army officer may receive after 30 years' service at 50 per cent of his base pay. If he receives a disability pension, it is 75 per cent of his base pay.

Although It Took 50 Years He Built Better Mousetrap

WHITTIER, CALIF.—J. C. Hunicutt took that adage about "building a better mousetrap" to heart.

His latest de luxe "automatic" jar trapped 13 rats in one night at the city dump.

A rodent who sniffs the bait and enters Hunicutt's gadget first trips a trap which closes the door behind him. Then he goes down a tunnel and squeezes through an opening into a larger box, automatically opening the front door for the next victim.

Hunicutt says he has been working up to this masterpiece through 50 years' trap-making experience.

Greeks Learn Food Canning

ATHENS.—The American Mission for Aid to Greece has installed 5 out of 30 community canning centers, valued at $84,500, brought here by UNRRA.

The Greek suspicion that canned foods are dangerous and bandit activity prevented more than 3 centers from being set up prior to the mission's arrival.

"The Greeks are fresh food eaters and resist any wide use of canned goods," says Elmer N. Holmgren, of Bryan, Tex., agricultural director of the American mission.
